Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 11 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Some early rain, then sunny spells and showers. Breezy.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain across southeast, the far northwest and the Northern Isles clear through the morning to leave sunny spells and, more especially across northern parts, showers. The southwesterly breeze will be strong at times around northern coasts.

Tonight:
The far north and the Northern Isles rather cloudy with occasional showers. Elsewhere dry with some long clear spells, especially in the south and east. Fresher than recent nights.

Saturday:
Far north remains rather cloudy with showers dying out, elsewhere sunny spells and just the odd shower. Western areas become cloudier through the afternoon with some evening rain. Remaining breezy.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cloudy, some rain, in west Sunday but warm sunny spells in east. Cooler Monday and Tuesday with sunny spells and, in north, showers, more persistent rain in west later Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.